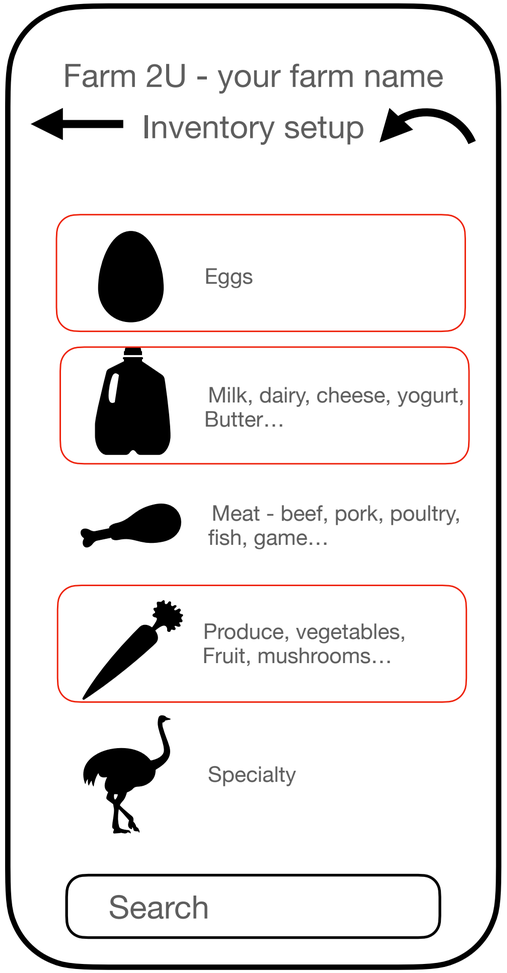
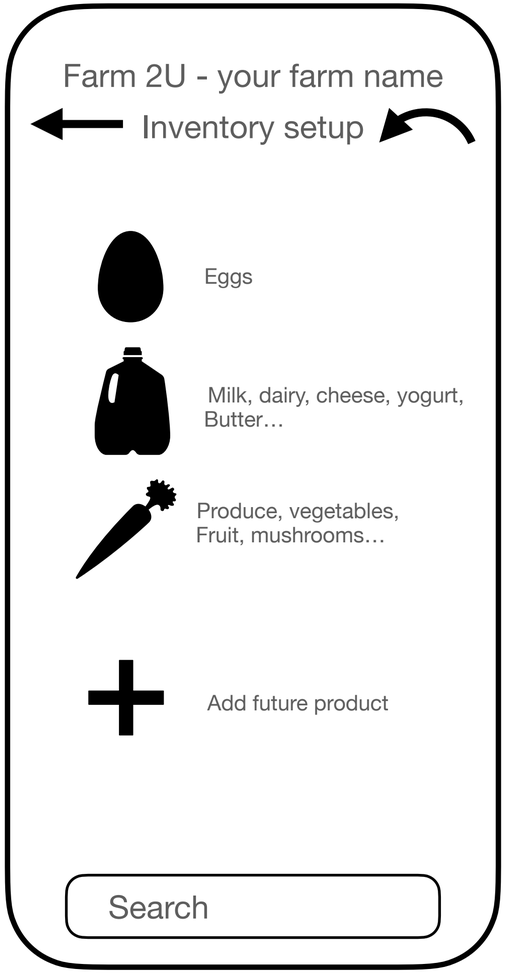
This will be the opening home screen for the farmer. They start by clicking each on of the categories that they have products to enter. Those entries will be saved for later so that going forward, they will not have to reselect their master list.



This farmer has chosen only eggs, dairy and vegetables.



From this point on, the farmer will have this as their home screen (their profile) and only have to fill in the categories within. Cloud based sync will save this profile automatically under their farm name. Since many farms have the same name, we’ll have to also assign an alphanumeric ID tag.

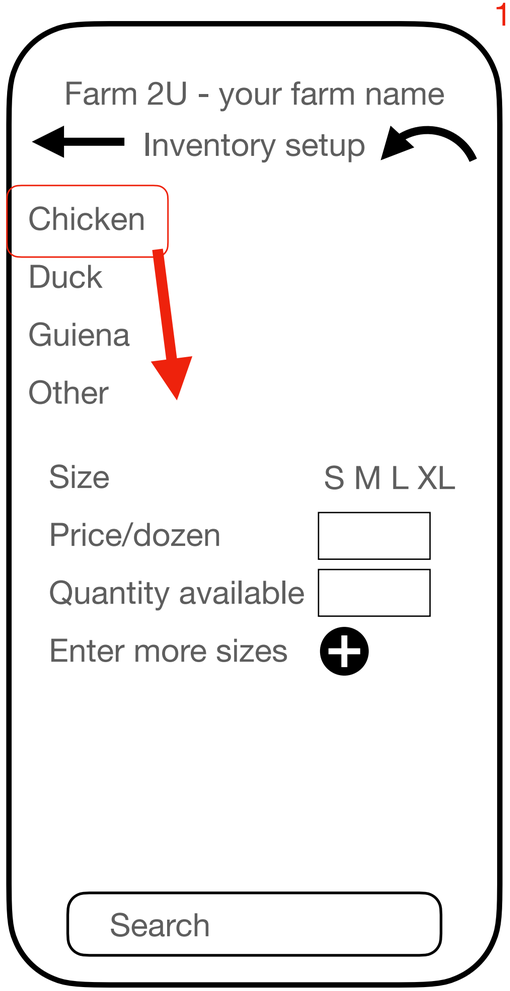
1st time



Click the variety to highlight it. Then fill in the boxes below. Each time you fill in a new value in the size box, a new price and quantity are expected. The size field only appears when chicken eggs are selected.

2nd time and all subsequent times

After the initial input, the farmer will not see the other choices of eggs unless the “add new” button is clicked.
